GREEN BAY PACKAGING INC. CINCINNATI DIVISION PURCHASES
NEW FACILITY IN LEBANON, OHIO

Green Bay, WI—December 20, 2012—Green Bay Packaging Inc. announced today the purchase of a new 269,000 square foot facility in Lebanon, Ohio, to replace its existing location in Cincinnati, Ohio. Ongoing sales growth has dictated the need for an improved and expanded manufacturing facility.

According to Bryan Hollenbach, Executive Vice-President, the company plans to begin moving the office in January, with the balance of the manufacturing equipment over the first quarter of 2013. The new location at 760 Kingsview Drive in Lebanon, Ohio, on 28 acres of land will include offices, manufacturing, a design center, and warehousing space. The facility will be “lean manufacturing” oriented. Currently, the division employs 91 plant and office employees.

Commented Wayne Petersen, Vice President, General Manager, "The new plant will manufacture corrugated shipping containers in a variety of sizes and will serve businesses in the southern 2/3 of Ohio, southern Indiana, and northern Kentucky. Further, it reflects Green Bay Packaging's continued growth, expansion, and its commitment to the packaging industry." The division has been operating out of its current location since its acquisition by Green Bay Packaging Inc. in 1985.

Based in Green Bay, WI, Green Bay Packaging traces its history to Green Bay Box Co., a manufacturer of wooden cheese boxes founded in 1919. In 1933, the company began to manufacture corrugated shipping containers. The Corporation currently employs more than 3,000 nationwide and has sales in excess of $1 billion.

Green Bay Packaging Inc. operates 15 other corrugated shipping container plants throughout the United States and is a vertically integrated international corporation with more than 30 divisions operating in 15 states.
