Green Bay Packaging Wins Manufacturing Awards of Distinction

Green Bay, Wis.- (Feb. 1, 2018) – Green Bay Packaging accepted this year’s 2017 Manufacturing Awards of Distinction presented by the Greater Green Bay Chamber and Advance, its economic development department. The Chamber is a convener, bringing together resources to enhance economic, workforce and community development. They are the champions of business development for Greater Green Bay.

“We are thrilled to be recognized among the best companies in our region,” said Will Kress, President and CEO of Green Bay Packaging. “Our team is truly focused on delivering great customer service by running safe, clean and extremely efficient Manufacturing Operations across the country. We can do this by continually re-investing in our operations and employing and empowering the best workforce.”

Green Bay Packaging has remained consistent since 1933, keeping their founder, George F. Kress’s, vision alive. Green Bay Packaging’s locations are strategically placed with 35 of its plants in the U.S. and Mexico, five of those plants are right here in Green Bay, and a total of nine plants in Wisconsin. Everyday GBP is driven by continuous improvement and focused on providing outstanding value to our customers. The company maintains strong environmental and social responsibilities through its sustainability commitment; optimizing resources, being aware of the balance on economic, social, and environmental goals and producing quality and innovative products.

The event honored manufacturers for their tremendous leadership, innovation, contribution to the local economy and creatively attracting and retaining talent.
